PREFACE

Provincial Royal Commissions and Commissions of Inquiry, 1867-1982: A Selective Bibliography is the product of a cooperative effort on the part of the National Library of Canada and all ten provinces. It is intended as a national reference tool through which students and researchers may be made aware of the range and diversity of documentation resulting from investigations into political, cultural, economic, and social issues in provincial jurisdictions from both an historical and contemporary viewpoint. The National Library of Canada has prepared and published this bibliography as a support to Canadian studies.

PRÉFACE

Commissions royales provinciales et commissions d'enquêtes, 1867-1982: bibliographie sélective est le fruit d'un effort collectif de la Bibliothèque nationale du Canada et des dix provinces. Il s'agit d'un ouvrage de référence national grâce auquel étudiants et chercheurs peuvent se rendre compte de l'étendue et de la diversité de la documentation issue d'enquêtes sur des questions politiques, culturelles, économiques et sociales dans les provinces. La Bibliothèque nationale a préparé et publié cette bibliographie pour appuyer les études canadiennes.

INTRODUCTION

Since Confederation, provincial royal commissions and commissions of inquiry have been established by provincial governments to examine important political, cultural, economic, or social problems in their jurisdiction. More specifically, a royal commission is a body set up by a province's Cabinet via an Order-in-Council, whose purpose it is to carry out an investigation of a specified subject, and to make recommendations for the government's consideration. Commissions of inquiry address themselves to broad issues of government policy by either gathering information relevant to an issue and advising the government, or by investigating the facts of a particular alleged problem usually associated with the functioning of government. Many inquiries both advise and investigate.

The mechanism for creating these commissions varies from province to province, but usually emanates from an Order-in-Council issued by the provincial Cabinet, which cites that province's Public Inquiries Act as the authorizing statute; in some cases, most notably in those commissions set up in the Province of Quebec, a commission may be created under the authority of a special act that may cite the Public Inquiries Act or its equivalent to describe the wide range of powers these special commissions are granted by a government.

The term "royal" as applied to a commission is loosely defined, but usually it is applied to reflect the executive nature of the appointment of the commission; as is

INTRODUCTION

Depuis la Confédération, des commissions royales et des commissions d'enquêtes ont été créées par des gouvernements provinciaux pour étudier d'importantes questions politiques, culturelles, économiques ou sociales. Plus précisément, une commission royale provinciale est instituée par un décret du Conseil des ministres de la province dans le but d'enquêter sur une question spécifique et de faire des recommandations au gouvernement. Les commissions d'enquêtes abordent de grandes questions de politique gouvernementale soit en recueillant de l'information sur un sujet donné pour conseiller le gouvernement, soit en enquêtant sur un problème particulier habituellement associé au fonctionnement de l'appareil gouvernemental. Bon nombre de commissions sont à la fois chargées de conseiller et d'enquêter.

Le mécanisme de création de ces commissions varie d'une province à l'autre, mais les commissions sont normalement issues d'un décret du Conseil des ministres émis en vertu de la Loi sur les enquêtes publiques, qui constitue l'instrument d'autorisation. Dans certains cas, notamment au Québec, une commission peut être créée en vertu d'une loi spéciale qui peut invoquer la Loi sur les enquêtes publiques ou une loi équivalente pour décrire l'étendue des pouvoirs conférés à ces commissions spéciales par un gouvernement.

Le terme "royale" appliqué à une commission est plutôt vague, mais traduit le fait que c'est le pouvoir exécutif qui nomme une commission. Comme en fait foi evident in this bibliography, not all commissions prefer to designate themselves as royal — even some particularly controversial or topical judicial enquiries can technically call themselves royal commissions. Chairpersons of commissions, who are appointed by a government because of their qualifications which may relate to their knowledge of a subject, may decide to call their commissions "royal commissions."

These commissions must submit a written report to the government, usually with specific recommendations as to policy changes or courses of action. Governments are in no sense bound to enact legislatively any or all of the recommendations presented by a royal commission in its report(s). With the presentation of a final report to a government, a royal commission ceases to exist, thus reflecting the ad hoc nature of the body and its purpose.

cette bibliographie, ce ne sont pas toutes les commissions qui veulent se faire appeler "commission royale"; même certaines enquêtes particulièrement controversées ou certaines enquêtes judiciaires sur des questions d'actualité peuvent en théorie s'appeler "commission royale". Les présidents de commissions nommés par un gouvernement en raison de leurs compétences relatives à un sujet donné peuvent aussi opter pour la désignation "commission royale".

Les commissions doivent soumettre au gouvernement un rapport écrit qui comprend généralement des recommandations spécifiques relativement aux changements qui s'imposent au niveau des politiques ou aux mesures à adopter. Les gouvernements ne sont pas liés par les recommandations que formule une commission royale dans son(ses) rapport(s) et n'ont pas à adopter de lois en conséquence. La commission royale est dissoute à la présentation de son rapport final au gouvernement, reflétant ainsi le caractère provisoire de son mandat.

Organization of the Bibliography

Provincial royal commissions and commissions of inquiry are arranged chronologically by a province's date of entry into Confederation:

1867 — New Brunswick
Nova Scotia
Ontario
Québec

1870 — Manitoba

1871 — British Columbia

1873 — Prince Edward Island

1905 — Alberta
Saskatchewan

1949 — Newfoundland

Classement de la bibliographie

Les commissions royales provinciales et les commissions d'enquêtes sont classées par ordre chronologique suivant la date d'entrée des provinces dans la Confédération:

1867 — Nouveau-Brunswick
Nouvelle-Écosse
Ontario
Québec

1870 — Manitoba

1871 — Colombie-Britannique

1873 — Île-du-Prince-Édouard

1905 — Alberta
Saskatchewan

1949 — Terre-Neuve

Printed or published reports of the commissions for each province are arranged chronologically by the date of the report; if two or more reports are published within the same year, the reports are listed in alphabetical order. All reports are numbered sequentially throughout the bibliography. When known, the popular name of a commission has been given: for example, the commission named, Commission Appointed Respecting the General Election of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario Held on the 19th Day of June, 1934, is also listed with its more popular name, Elections Inquiry Commission.

Bibliographic Entries

Bibliographic entries follow the bibliographic style which is outlined in the "National Library of Canada Bibliographic Style Manual" — to be published in late 1986 or early 1987. In essence, this style is based on those outlined in the documents ISO/DIS 690, AACR2, and the Chicago Manual of Style (13th ed.). The aim in presenting bibliographic entries is consistency and clarity, with sensitivity to the Canadian context. All entries are taken from either the original document or from a photocopy of the title page. Entries are not translated; where commissions present reports that are bilingual, the English is listed first if it appears first on the original document, and the French follows; the reverse is true, particularly in bilingual documents originating in Québec, where the French comes first and the Les rapports imprimés ou publiés des commissions de chaque province sont classés d'après la date du rapport et par ordre alphabétique si plus d'un rapport est publié la même année. Tous les rapports sont numérotés consécutivement dans la bibliographie. Le nom populaire d'une commission est mentionné lorsqu'il est connu: ainsi, la commission intitulée "Commission Appointed Respecting the General Election of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, Held on the 19th Day of June, 1934", est aussi répertoriée sous le nom qu'on lui donnait communément, à savoir "Elections Inquiry Commission".

Notices bibliographiques

Les notices sont conformes au style préconisé dans le "Manuel de présentation bibliographique de la Bibliothèque nationale du Canada" qui sera publié à la fin de 1986 ou au début de 1987. Ce manuel s'inspire essentiellement de trois documents, ISO/DIS 690, RCAA2 et le Chicago Manual of Style (13e édition). La clarté et l'uniformité des notices bibliographiques sont deux qualités essentielles, de même que l'adaptation au contexte canadien. Toutes les rubriques proviennent de l'original ou d'une photocopie de la page titre. Les rubriques ne sont pas traduites. Pour ce qui est des rapports bilingues, l'anglais figure en premier s'il est inscrit en premier sur l'original, suivi du français, et vice versa, particulièrement dans le cas des documents bilingues émanant du Québec, où le français a préséance

English second. Regarding punctuation of bibliographic entries, the ISBD (International Standard Bibliographic Description) rules for punctuation were employed. Chairpersons of commissions are listed as a separate element from commissioners, where evident. Commissioners are listed in alphabetical order.

Scope of the Bibliography

Most of the provincial royal commissions and commissions of inquiry included in this selective bibliography were established as commissions by a provincial Cabinet's issuance of an Order-in-Council naming a province's Public Inquiries Act or its equivalent as the authorizing statute. The title of the Public Inquiries Act not only varies from province to province, but also has varied throughout a province's legislative history; for example, Manitoba's Public Inquiry Act is called the Manitoba Evidence Act. As mentioned in the Introduction, a number of commissions were established by special acts, some of which cite a province's Public Inquiries Act as the authorizing statute; these commissions have been included in this bibliography. In cases where it can be determined that a commission's authorizing statute is a departmental statute with limited powers and with no connection to a special act or a Public Inquiries Act, then that commission is not included in this bibliography. The only other circumstance where a commis-

Les présidents de commissions et les commissaires sont énumérés séparément, lorsque la distinction existant entre eux est évidente. Les commissaires sont énumérés par ordre alphabétique.

Portée de la bibliographie

Les commissions royales provinciales et les commissions d'enquêtes répertoriées dans cette bibliographie sélective ont presque toutes été établies par un décret du Conseil des ministres invoquant la Loi sur les enquêtes publiques d'une province ou une loi équivalente à titre d'instrument d'autorisation. La Loi sur les enquêtes publiques peut s'intituler différemment d'une province à l'autre, et même avoir eu plusieurs appellations dans l'histoire d'une province donnée. Au Manitoba, par exemple, la Loi sur les enquêtes publiques s'appelle "Loi sur la preuve au Manitoba". Comme nous l'avons dit dans l'introduction, un certain nombre de commissions ont été établies en vertu de lois spéciales, dont certaines invoquent la Loi sur les enquêtes publiques comme instrument d'autorisation; ces commissions sont comprises dans cette bibliographie. Les commissions n'ont pas été retenues lorsque l'instrument d'autorisation est un statut ministériel ayant des pouvoirs limités et n'ayant aucun rapport avec une loi spéciale ou avec une Loi sur les sion is judged to be ineligible for inclusion is one where it has proven impossible to reasonably determine the status of the authorizing statute.

Selection has been limited to an attempt to eliminate the departmental commissions. The aim has been to include as many commissions as possible, thereby providing the user with as comprehensive a research tool as possible. Further information regarding scope parameters is as follows:

1. Chronological coverage 1867-1982;
2. Including only those commissions that have a Public Inquiries Act as their authorizing statute;
3. Including only the relevant reports of a commission, such as interim and final reports unless other documents, such as studies and evidence, are bound with the reports;
4. Including commission reports which can be identified and located.

Location Information

Location symbols are presented in alphabetical order as the last element in each bibliographic entry. Users of this bibliography should refer to the National Library's Symbols of Canadian Libraries, 11th ed. (Ottawa: National Library of Canada, 1985). Location information was found in the following sources: the enquêtes publiques. Le seul autre motif d'inadmissibilité est lorsqu'on n'a pu raisonnablement déterminer la nature et la provenance de l'instrument d'autorisation.

La sélection reflète une volonté de ne pas retenir les travaux des commissions ministérielles. Les rédacteurs se sont efforcés d'y inclure le plus grand nombre possible de commissions pour que l'usager puisse disposer d'un instrument de recherche suffisamment exhaustif. Les critères de sélection qui ont été retenus sont les suivants:

1. La période visée s'étend de 1867 à 1982 (inclusivement).
2. Les commissions doivent avoir une Loi sur les enquêtes publiques pour instrument d'autorisation.
3. Seuls les rapports pertinents d'une commission, tels que ses rapports provisoires et finals, ont été inclus, d'autres documents tels que des études et des dépositions ne l'ayant été que s'ils faisaient partie des rapports.
4. Il doit s'agir de rapports de commissions qu'on peut identifier et localiser.

Localisations

Les sigles des bibliothèques employés pour indiquer les localisations des documents sont disposés par ordre alphabétique et constituent le dernier élément des notices bibliographiques. Pour l'explication de ces sigles, les utilisateurs de Canadian Official Publications Collection of the National Library including Sessional Papers, DOBIS, the National Library's automated cataloguing system; the Canadian Union Catalogue, and the provincial royal commission and commissions of inquiry bibliographies produced by the provinces of Nova Scotia, Québec, Ontario, Alberta, and British Columbia. Many of the older reports of commissions exist only in manuscript format — others are typescripts of the original handwritten reports; in these cases, the original document was not perused because usually only one copy exists in a provincial archive or legislative library and it is not available for interlibrary loan.

Indexes

All chairpersons of commissions and commissioners are listed in alphabetical order in a distinct index. As well, a subject index has been provided to facilitate access to items in the bibliography: keywords were taken from individual bibliographic entries and used as subject headings and from indexes published in existing bibliographies prepared by several provinces.

cette bibliographie devraient consulter les Sigles des bibliothèques canadiennes, 11e édition (Ottawa: Bibliothèque nationale du Canada, 1985). Des données de localisation ont été trouvées dans les sources suivantes: la collection des publications officielles canadiennes de la Bibliothèque nationale (incluant les documents de la session), le DOBIS, système de catalogage automatisé de la Bibliothèque nationale du Canada, le Catalogue collectif canadien ainsi que les bibliographies de commissions royales provinciales et de commissions d'enquêtes de diverses provinces, notamment la Nouvelle-Écosse, le Québec, l'Ontario, l'Alberta et la Colombie-Britannique. De nombreux rapports de commissions plus anciennes n'existent qu'en version manuscrite alors que d'autres sont des transcriptions dactylographiées de manuscrits originaux; en pareil cas, le document original n'a pas été consulté et il n'existe habituellement qu'un seul exemplaire du document dans un établissement d'archives provincial ou dans la bibliothèque d'une assemblée législative, exemplaire qui ne peut faire l'objet d'un prêt entre bibliothèques.

Index

Tous les présidents de commissions et les commissaires figurent en ordre alphabétique dans un index distinct. De plus, un index-sujets facilite l'accès aux documents répertoriés: les mots clés ont été tirés de notices bibliographiques individuelles et employés comme vedettes-matières ou proviennent d'index faisant partie de bibliographies déjà publiées dans plusieurs provinces.

We are also very grateful to numerous individuals from various provincial legislative libraries and provincial libraries and archives, who generously provided photocopies of reports, in their entirety or in part, and who supplied much general information without which this bibliography would not be as complete and accurate as it is.

Les rédacteurs tiennent à remercier le personnel des diverses bibliothèques d'assemblées législatives et des bibliothèques et établissements d'archives provinciaux qui leur ont gracieusement fourni des photocopies de rapports partiels ou complets et quantité de renseignements généraux sans lesquels cette bibliographie ne serait pas complète et manquerait de précision.
